

Greenest County Awards 2012

You will know that Suffolk County Council is the annual host to the competition for the Greenest County Awards.

This year we are delighted to have sponsorship for the Awards from Adnams, Carillion, East of England Cooperative Society, Port of Felixstowe , Thorpeness and Aldeburgh Hotels, UCS, and support from Environment Agency and Suffolk County Council.

So there is the opportunity for organisations to apply for the - "Creating the Greenest County Awards 2012". The entry period for the Awards is open until the end of January 2012. Applicants can enter on line at http://www.greensuffolk.org/ctgc\_awards\_2012/how\_to\_enter . Full details are there of the categories to be competed in and how to enter.

I would be grateful if you would remind the voluntary organisations within your Parish of this opportunity that has a closing date at the end of this month. Awards will be presented at a prestigious Dinner at Wherstead Park on Thursday 22nd March.
